MAKING UP THE TICKET.

APOLLO HALL SHOWS ITS HAND AT LAST—PROCEEDINGS OF ITS COUNTY CONVENTION.

Apollo Hall was crowded on Saturday evening with the delegates to the City and County Convention of the O'Brien Democracy, who had met for the purpose of carrying out the "cut-and-dried" plan of nominating Senator O'Brien for Mayor. Most of those who control the organization were there, including Wm. C. Barrett, Edward D. Hatch, Judge Spaulding, Samuel J. Courtney, Henry L. Clinton, Harry Murray, Alderman Mahrholz, J. Lyddy, and others.

The Convention was called to order by Judge Spaulding. He contrasted the present assemblies with that of one year ago, when their first County Convention met, and they, with their candidates, stepped into the world of politics, a new creation, christened the Apollo Hall Democracy. A score of men they were then, without money, without organization, and without even confidence in themselves; and yet they attacked the clan Tammany, which had the coffers of the city at its command, and a disciplined army of many thousands at its back. One day had November the giant swayed and tottered and passed and fell, and to-day Tammany lies prostrate, a lifeless hulk. The efforts of Tilden and Genet, of Kelly and Fields, and the rest, had failed to ravage the corpse into life, for there never was a case on record when a body absolutely dead had been called back to existence. He saw before him a Convention consisting of upward of 1,000 delegates, called from every avocation in life, and representing the respectability and worth of every election district-man who was not holder of public places, and had not come there to get them. They were the representatives of an outraged and pillaged community, sent by their respective constituents to redress past wrongs and to provide safeguards for the future. This community and the entire nation recognized them as leading the true reform movement, and as the only organization in the city and county that was capable of pushing true reform to a complete and lasting success. Judge Spaulding named as temporary chairman G. W. Brock, and the nomination was accepted by the Convention.

Mr. Brock thanked the Convention for the honor conferred on him. The task to be performed by the Convention was to complete the work of municipal reform. To do this, it was necessary to nominate men of unusual and distinguished ability. He concluded with an elaborate eulogy of O'Brien, whom he indicated as likely to be the candidate for Mayor.

The crowd of the various delegations were then examined. A Committee of seven from Permanent Organization reported the following list of officers:

Permanent Chairwoman, Mrs. W. C. Brock; Vice-President, Jessie Woodsworth; Wm. C. Trapenberg; William C. Barrett, Edward D. Hatch, W. H. Vanderbilt; Samuel J. Courtney, Henry L. Clinton, and others; Secretaries, J. C. Walsh, W. H. Smith, and others.

The report was unanimously adopted.

Samuel J. Courtney rose to present the name of a candidate for Mayor. The name of the man whom he offered was presented with pleasure and enthusiasm. It was sure the crowd would choose a spokesman of cultured taste before witnessed in a Convention of the people. He was instructed to nominate for Mayor Senator James O'Brien (Long cheer). The speaker then said that the effort had been done, and that part she overcame those who had plundered the city; that he had persistently fought the Erie Ring, and that he had always cordially supported measures for the relief and benefit of the workingmen of the city. He then spoke of the work he had done to aid the poor and the aged, and of his opposition to the First Freehold Station-house. When he recovered he stated that while he was on his way home he was suddenly prostrated by the blow of a club in the hands of an unknown ruffian, and was rendered unconscious. He awoke to find himself in a room, on Sunday morning, was seized by a man who dragged him into a hallway and took from him $4 in currency.
